LAMPERT FLORAL CO. SUFFERS FIRE LOSS

Damage Estimated At From $5,000 To $7,000 Caused By Early Monday Blaze—Cripples Firm During Busy Season

Damage estimated at between $5,000 and $7,000 was caused by fire which swept the Lampert Floral Co., N. Detroit St., owned by George and Harry W. Lampert, brothers, at 1 o'clock Monday morning.

The loss is partly covered by $2,000 insurance held on building and contents, according to a member of the firm.

Origin of the blaze is doubtful. It may have been caused by spontaneous combustion in a ton of fertilizer stored near where the flames were first noticed, or by burning soot in the smoke stack in the boiler house.

When discovered by John Peeper, fireman and watchman, the entire roof of the boiler house was ablaze. Harry Lampert turned in the alarm.

The entire frame building, divided into separate compartments used as a boiler house, a packing shed and an office, burned down with contents.

The building also connected with the greenhouse and about 1,000 pounds of glass were broken as a result of the intense heat and water. Small damage is thought to have been done to the vegetable plant stock inside, except possibly from smoke and exposure to the cold weather.

An adjacent garage also used as a packing house caught fire, burning one side. Five trucks had been removed from the structure to make room for evergreen trees and were saved. The evergreens valued at $2,500, were also removed from the danger zone.

Following the blaze, it was discovered that all records of the firm in the office were safe. A filing (Continued on Page Two)

CONGRESS PLANS TO ADJOURN TO ATTEND G. O. P. CONVENTION

Sessions Halt May 19 Heavy Program Needs Action

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Although a monster legislative program awaits enactment, party leaders today begin preparation for adjournment of the first session of the seventieth congress on May 19.

This would send congress home three weeks in advance of the Republican national convention at Kansas City. The date was fixed tentatively at the insistence of Republican leaders who held that three weeks was a very brief period in which to complete their plans for the "free-for-all" contest likely to ensue at Kansas City in the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

Democratic leaders appeared willing to abide by the Republican decision. First, the minority spokesmen held that in a nominal Republican congress, the Republican leaders should set the date of adjournment, and second, they felt an early adjournment would tend to help the Democratic cause because the Republican party would be held responsible for all legislation not enacted.

The opinion prevailed that in the six weeks remaining before the potential adjournment, politics would play a predominating role. Leaders of both parties privately expressed the belief that little legislation of a major character would be enacted, aside from the flood control and farm relief bills. If a greater program is to be enacted, it is certain that both house and senate will have to speed up their legislative wheels.

With six weeks of work ahead, the legislative situation is as follows:

The House: McNary-Haugen farm bill, Boulder Dam bill, Jones merchant marine, flood relief and Muscle Shoals bills on calendar. St. Lawrence waterway, Columbia river basin and Welch salary increase bills in committee. Has enacted the tax reduction, new navy and postal rate decrease bills.

The Senate: McNary-Haugen farm bill under debate. Boulder Dam bill on calendar. Tax bill, new navy, postal decrease, St. Lawrence waterway and Columbia river basin bills in committee. Has enacted flood relief, Muscle Shoals and Jones merchant marine bills.

Seven major pieces of legislation appeared favored for enactment before adjournment. These are the farm relief, the flood control, the Boulder Dam bill, the tax reduction bill, the Jones merchant marine bill, the new navy measure and the postal rate decrease bill. Their favored positions came from the fact that they have passed one branch of congress or else appear at the tops of the legislative calendars in both branches.

With adjournment but six weeks away, however, all or any of these bills could be defeated by filibustering tactics. A presidential veto undoubtedly would kill any or all of them, and administration leaders have predicted the president will use his veto freely.

TWO KILLED IN GUN BATTLE

DEPUTY SHERIFF IS SLAIN; ONE GUNMAN DEAD; THREE HURT

Knife Attack Ends In Pitched Duel With Officers

PORTSMOUTH, O., April 9.—Two men are dead and two others are reported near death in hospitals here today as the result of a gun battle between deputy sheriffs and two men at Slab Run, near here last night.

Henry Bending, 31, a deputy sheriff, was shot through the head and killed instantly. Garner Vencil, 27, was shot in the abdomen and died in a hospital this morning. Allen Higgins is also in a hospital with serious knife wounds and Green Willis, 47, a deputy, has a bullet wound in the neck which is expected to prove fatal.

Edward Burton, 19, who was shot in the leg, was removed to the county jail today, charged with murder.

Vencil and Burton are said to have encountered Higgins at a filling station just outside the city last evening. An altercation began, according to reports, when Vencil asked Higgins to get him some whiskey.

Vencil was known as a tough character and had killed two men previously, according to police. When Higgins refused to go for whiskey he and Burton drew pistols and cut him seriously, according to reports. The fight continued, Higgins attempting to escape, and the other two following him until they had reached Slab Run, a small ravine a short distance further down the road, spectators said.

By this time a call had been sent to the sheriff's office and the county car, occupied by Deputies Bending and Willis, Police Captain Lee Startzman, and William Burns, a newspaper reporter, arrived a few minutes later.

Bending was driving. He stepped the machine, Willis stepped out, and shouted to the men that they were under arrest. Deputy Bending and Burton both drew pistols, according to reports, and began shooting.

The first shot struck Willis' jaw, and penetrated the back of his neck. He dropped to the ground and another bullet hit Bending. He slumped over the steering wheel, dead. Willis, though seriously wounded, returned the fire as he lay on the ground and Startzman also began shooting from the automobile.

Vencil and Burton were finally subdued after both had been wounded. Vencil fatally. Startzman and Burns were uninjured. Deputy Bending, who was killed, had been married only a few months ago.

KLAN FOUNDER WILL TESTIFY AT OUSTER SUIT IN PITTSBURGH

SIMMONS AFFIDAVIT TO BE INTRODUCED BY OPPONENTS

PITTSBURGH, April 9.—Depositions and the taking of testimony in the suit of the Klu Klux Klan against five former members and the countersuit of the defendants demanding an accounting of Klan affairs in Pennsylvania will probably continue the greater part of this week, it was thought likely as the trial opened in federal court here today.

Scores of witnesses from all parts of the country were here, among the best known scheduled to testify before Judge W. H. S. Thomson being William Joseph Simmons, founder of the Klan. Simmons also has given a lengthy affidavit which the former Klansmen intend to use, with many others, against the Klan.

Sensational disclosures of alleged depositions, including murder, inciting to mob violence and political corruption by the Klan were promised by Van A. Barrickman, local attorney and one of the five defendants. Others, each of whom is being sued for $100,000 damages by the Klan, include Rev. John F. Strayer, of Latrobe; Dr. Charles W. Over, Wilkesburg; Dr. Charles V. Hunter, North Bessemer; and William C. Davis, Manor, Pa.

The five "banished" members of the Klan replied to the organization's attempt to restrain them from interfering with its activities in Pennsylvania by filing a countersuit in which they asked appointment of a receiver for the Klan in this state and an accounting of funds collected.

AVIATORS TRY FORD MONOPLANE AS TEST FOR POLAR FLIGHT

Pleased With Plane In Sub-Zero Weather In Canada

DETROIT, April 9.—Floyd Bennett and Bert Balchen, members of the Byrd South Pole expedition were back in Detroit today telling how they explored the Canadian gold fields north of Winnipeg in a Ford monoplane and staked out thirty-one claims.

The flyers went into northern Canada to test out the Ford monoplane under conditions similar to those anticipated in the South Pole flight scheduled to start this fall. The plane performed satisfactorily, they reported, in sub-zero temperatures and using landing ski instead of wheels. The test flights lasted ten days.

Bennett said the plane had taken off and landed on ice and hard snow with a load of 12,000 pounds. The monoplane's weight, 5,982 pounds, is included in this figure.

Besides Bennett and Balchen, the monoplane carried six others on the return trip to Detroit. They were Miss Helen Anita McGregor, Winnipeg pianist; her uncle, Harry Russell; L. L. SEEK DESPERADOES AFTER SHOOTING IN POOL ROOM HOLD-UP

Officer Surprises Bandits; Two Men Are Wounded

CINCINNATI, O., April 9.—Six desperadoes who held up a pool room in North College Hill, a suburb of this city early yesterday, killed Peter Dumele, 50, the village marshal, and wounded two other men, were the objects of an extensive police search today.

The bandits, all masked, rushed into a pool hall, operated by Lee Stah, Sunday morning holding pistols and sawed-off shotguns and commanded Stah and about a dozen patrons of the place to throw up their hands. Stah, surprised, did not comply immediately and one of the robbers struck him in the face with the butt of a pistol.

At this juncture, Marshal Dumele, unaware that a hold-up was in progress, walked into the room. The leader of the band commanded him to put up his hands and get in line with the rest.

Instead the marshal reached for his pistol. A roar of two shotguns and a pistol, exploding simultaneously, followed and Marshal Dumele dropped to the floor, fatally wounded. A panic resulted, one man jumped through a window and others dropped behind pool tables and other available shelter.

The bandits fled, one of them shooting back into the place with his shotgun. Part of the shot struck Samuel Keller in the back but he was not seriously hurt.

Marshal Dumele was rushed to a hospital where he died. He had been the town marshal for three years. Just before he died he told his wife, Eva, "I couldn't be a coward."

LAMPERT FLORAL CO. SUFFERS FIRE LOSS

Damage Estimated At From $5,000 To $7,000 Caused By Early Monday Blaze—Cripples Firm During Busy Season

Damage estimated at between $5,000 and $7,000 was caused by fire which swept the Lampert Floral Co., N. Detroit St., owned by George and Harry W. Lampert, brothers, at 1 o'clock Monday morning.

The loss is partly covered by $2,000 insurance held on building and contents, according to a member of the firm.

Origin of the blaze is doubtful. It may have been caused by spontaneous combustion in a ton of fertilizer stored near where the flames were first noticed, or by burning soot in the smoke stack in the boiler house.

When discovered by John Peeper, fireman and watchman, the entire roof of the boiler house was ablaze. Harry Lampert turned in the alarm.

The entire frame building, divided into separate compartments used as a boiler house, a packing shed and an office, burned down with contents.

The building also connected with the greenhouses and about 1,000 panes of glass were broken as a result of the intense heat and water. Small damage is thought to have been done to the vegetable plant stock inside, except possibly from smoke and exposure to the cold weather.

An adjacent garage also used as a packing house caught fire, burning one side. Five trucks had been removed from the structure to make room for evergreen trees and were saved. The evergreens valued at $2,500, were also removed from the danger zone.

Following the blaze, it was discovered that all records of the firm in the office were safe. A filling (Continued on Page Two)

CONGRESS PLANS TO ADJOURN TO ATTEND G. O. P. CONVENTION

Sessions Halt May 19 Heavy Program Needs Action

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Although a monster legislative program awaits enactment, party leaders today begin preparation for adjournment of the first session of the seventieth congress on May 19. This would send congress home three weeks in advance of the Republican national convention at Kansas City. The date was fixed tentatively at the insistence of Republican leaders who held that three weeks was a very brief period in which to complete their plans for the "free-for-all" contest likely to ensue at Kansas City in the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

Democratic leaders appeared willing to abide by the Republican decision. First, the minority spokesmen held that in a normal Republican congress the Republican leaders should set the date of adjournment, and second, they felt an early adjournment would tend to help the Democratic cause because the Republican party would be held responsible for all legislation not enacted.

The opinion prevailed that in the six weeks remaining before the potential adjournment, politics would play a predominating role. Leaders of both parties privately expressed the belief that little legislation of a major character would be enacted, aside from the flood control and farm relief bills. If a greater program is to be enacted, it is certain that both house and senate will have to speed up their legislative wheels.

With six weeks of work ahead, the legislative situation is as follows:

The house: McNary-Haugen farm bill, Boulder Dam bill, Jones merchant marine, flood relief, and Muscle Shoals bills on calendar. St. Lawrence waterway, Columbia river basin and Welch salary increase bills in committee. Has enacted the tax reduction, new navy and postal rate decrease bills.

The senate: McNary-Haugen bill under debate. Boulder Dam bill on calendar. Tax bill, new navy, postal decrease, St. Lawrence waterway and Columbia river basin bills in committee. Has enacted flood relief, Muscle Shoals and Jones merchant marine bills.

Seven major pieces of legislation appeared favored for enactment before adjournment. These are the farm relief, the flood control, the Boulder Dam bill, the tax reduction bill, the Jones merchant marine bill, the new navy measure and the postal rate decrease bill. Their favored positions came from the fact that they have passed one branch of congress or else appear at the top of the legislative calendar in both branches.

With adjournment but six weeks away, however, all or any of these bills could be defeated by filibustering tactics. A presidential veto undoubtedly would kill any or all of them, and administration leaders have predicted the president will use his veto freely.

GLOUSTR, O., April 9.—Three trucks loaded with food and clothing which arrived yesterday from Cincinnati for the striking miners were being distributed here today. The relief came from clothing workers and is being given out to members of nineteen local unions of the miners.

To Succeed Depew?

E. E. Loomis, New York, president of the Lehigh Valley railroad, has been mentioned by Wall Street as a possible successor to the late Chauncey M. Depew as chairman of the board of the New York Central railroad. Loomis is a close friend of George F. Baker, president of the First National bank, New York—Baker being influential in affairs of the New York Central, which may absorb the Lehigh Valley in a general merger program of eastern roads.

KLAN FOUNDER WILL TESTIFY AT OUSTER SUIT IN PITTSBURGH

Simmons Affidavit To Be Introduced By Opponents

PITTSBURGH, April 9.—Depositions and the taking of testimony in the suit of the Klu Klux Klan against five former members and the countersuit of the defendants demanding an accounting of the Klan affairs in Pennsylvania will, probably continue the greater part of this week. It was thought likely as the trial opened in federal court here today.

Scores of witnesses from all parts of the country were here among the best known scheduled to testify before Judge W. H. S. Thompson being William Joseph Simmons, founder of the Klan. Simmons also has given a lengthy affidavit which the former Klansmen intend to use, with many others, against the Klan.

Sensational disclosures of alleged depredations, including murder, inciting to mob violence and political corruption by the Klan were promised by Van A. Barricknap, local attorney and one of the five defendants. Others, each of whom is being sued for $100,000 damages by the Klan, include Rev. John F. Strayer, of Latrobe; Dr. Charles W. Oyer, Wilkensburg; Dr. Charles S. Hunter, North Bessemer; and William C. Davis, Manor, Pa.

The five "banished" members of the Klan replied to the organization's attempt to restrain them from interfering with its activities in Pennsylvania by filing a countersuit in which they asked appointment of a receiver for the Klan in this state and an accounting of funds collected.

TWO KILLED IN GUN BATTLE

DEPUTY SHERIFF IS SLAIN; ONE GUNMAN DEAD; THREE HURT

Knife Attack Ends In Pitched Duel With Officers

PORTSMOUTH, O., April 9.—Two men are dead and two others are reported near death in hospitals here today as the result of a gun battle between deputy sheriffs and two men at Slab Run, near here last night.

Henry Bending, 31, a deputy sheriff, was shot through the head and killed instantly. Garner Vencil, 27, was shot in the abdomen and died in a hospital this morning. Allen Higgins is also in a hospital with serious knife wounds and Green Willis, 47, a deputy, has a bullet wound in the neck which is expected to prove fatal.

Edward Burton, 19, who was shot in the leg, was removed to the county jail today, charged with murder.

Vencil and Burton are said to have encountered Higgins at a filling station just outside the city last evening. An altercation began, according to reports, when Vencil asked Higgins to get him some whiskey.

Vencil was known as a tough character and had killed two men previously, according to reports. When Higgins refused to go for whiskey he and Burton drew knives and cut him seriously, according to reports. The fight continued, Higgins attempting to escape, and the other two following him until they had reached Slab Run, a small ravine a short distance further down the road, spectators said.

By this time a call had been sent to the sheriff's office and the county car, occupied by Deputies Bending and Willis, Police Captain Lee Startzman, and William Burns, a newspaper reporter, arrived a few minutes later.

Bending was driving. He stopped the machine. Willis stepped out, and shouted to the men that they were under arrest. Vencil and Burton both drew pistols, according to reports, and began shooting.

The first shot struck Willis' jaw, and penetrated the back of his neck. He dropped to the ground and another bullet hit Bending. He slumped over the steering wheel, dead. Willis, though seriously wounded, returned the fire as he lay on the ground and Startzman also began shooting from the automobile.

Vencil and Burton were finally subdued after both had been wounded. Vencil fatally. Startzman and Burns were uninjured. Deputy Bending, who was killed, had been married only a few months ago.

VILLAGE MARSHAL KILLED

THINK SUB-FREEZING WEATHER DID NOT CAUSE SERIOUS DAMAGE

COLUMBUS, O., April 9.—While the sub-freezing weather of the Easter week-end is expected to have had no ill effects on crops of any kind in Northern Ohio agriculture and weather statisticians today reported that they believed early blossoming fruit of southern Ohio would feel the effects of the sudden drop.

The crop of early cherries of Lawrence County, (Ironton) was reported to have been seriously damaged.

The coldest temperature of the state was reported this morning at Lima where the thermometer registered 24. In the Western part of the state the temperature ranged from 26 at Toledo; to 25 at Napoleon; 26 at Sidney; 28 at Dayton, and 28 at Cincinnati.

At northern Ohio points the temperature reported this morning, was generally about 26.

The truck and fruit crops of the eastern Ohio hills perhaps suffered not at all, as the temperature along the Ohio River about Marietta hovered near the freezing point. The temperature in central Ohio was 28.

Temperatures this morning were about one degree lower than yesterday morning.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE HERE

Churches Of City Hold Fitting Ceremonies To Commemorate Risen Lord—Early Service Held In Church

Xenians began their worship to the Risen Lord in true spirit, Sunday, when trumpeters awakened the city from the Court House Tower at 5:30, announcing the sunrise service at Christ Episcopal Church at 5:41 o'clock.

On account of the extreme drop in the temperature Saturday night, plans for the sunrise service in Shawnee Park were abandoned and the church substituted. The change detracted nothing from the impressiveness of the service and a crowd that filled the church attended the program.

Easter lilies and other flowers of the season decorated the altar where the Rev. W. H. Tilford of the First Presbyterian Church presided. The Rev. J. P. Lytle, First U. P. Church, pronounced the invocation; the Rev. A. J. Furstenberger, U. B. Church, gave the Message; the Rev. W. N. Shank, First M. E. Church, "The Gospel of the First Easter;" with benediction by Dr. H. AVIATORS TRY FORD MONOPLANE AS TEST FOR POLAR FLIGHT

DETROIT, April 9.—Floyd Bennett and Bernt Balchen, members of the Byrd South Pole expedition were back in Detroit today telling how they explored the Canadian gold fields north of Winnipeg in a Ford monoplane and staked out thirty-one claims.

The flyers went into northern Canada to test out the Ford monoplane under conditions similar to those anticipated in the South Pole flight scheduled to start this fall. The plane performed satisfactorily, they reported, in sub-zero temperatures and using landing skis instead of wheels. The test flights lasted ten days.

Besides Bennett and Balchen, nine other persons were carried to the gold fields in the Ford plane. The party staked out thirty-one claims. One is next to a claim that sold for $20,000.

Bennett said the plane had taken off and landed on ice and hard snow with a load of 13,000 pounds. The monoplane's weight, 5,982 pounds, is included in this figure.

Besides Bennett and Balchen, the monoplane carried six others on the return trip to Detroit. They were: Miss Helen Anita McGregor, Winnipeg pianist; her uncle, Harry Russell; L. L. Lang, of Winnipeg; George King and Joseph Crossen, two Alaskan fliers employed by Western Canada Airways, and Robert E. Donohue, a news reel cameraman.

SALESMAN KILLED BY PURSE SNATCHER

COLUMBUS, O., April 9.—Police and detectives today were searching for a negro robber who killed Charles H. Dixon, 56, traveling salesman, at his home here Saturday night.

The negro had snatched a purse from Mrs. Alyra Allen, 24, as she was walking in the street. Mrs. Allen screamed and the thief fled through a residence lot. Dixon had just stepped out on his back porch and the negro evidently gained the impression that he would attempt to intercept his flight. The fugitive fired one shot, the bullet striking Dixon in the right eye. He died enroute to the hospital.

SEEK DESPERADOES AFTER SHOOTING IN POOL ROOM HOLD-UP

Officer Surprises Bandits; Two Men Are Wounded

CINCINNATI, O., April 9.—Six desperadoes who held up a pool room in North College Hill, a suburb of this city early yesterday, killed Peter Dumele, 50, the village marshal, and wounded two other men, were the objects of an extensive police search today.

The bandits, all masked, rushed into a pool hall, operated by Lee Staib, Sunday morning holding pistols and sawed-off shotguns and commanded Staib and about a dozen patrons of the place to throw up their hands. Staib, surprised, did not comply immediately and one of the robbers struck him in the face with the butt of a pistol.

At this juncture, Marshal Dumele, unaware that a hold-up was in progress, walked into the room. The leader of the band commanded him to put up his hands and get in line with the rest.

Instead the marshal reached for his pistol. A roar of two shotguns and a pistol, exploding simultaneously, followed and Marshal Dumele dropped to the floor, fatally wounded. A panic resulted, men jumped through a window and others dropped behind pool tables and other available shelter.

The bandits fled, one of them shooting back into the place with his shotgun. Part of the shot struck Samuel Keller in the back but he was not seriously hurt.

Marshal Dumele was rushed to a hospital where he died. He had been the town marshal for three years. Just before he died he told his wife, Eva, "I couldn't be a coward."

Screams of the two girls attracted rescuers, who extricated them from the precarious position by means of a long rope.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT STARTS SINCLAIR CONSPIRACY TRIAL

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The federal government launched its supreme effort today to bring Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil man and sportsman, to task for his participation in the so-called oil scandals of the Harding administration.

Shortly after ten o'clock this morning Sinclair went on trial for criminal conspiracy to defraud the nation of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve in the court of District Supreme Court Justice Jennings Bailey.

The first twenty six of the 550 men and women available for jury duty were on hand in the tiny court room for questioning. George Hoover, of defense counsel, immediately challenged the practice of personally questioning the veniremen to the exclusion of the opposing attorneys, claiming it contrary to all existing law and unfair to his famous client.

All Alone This Time

Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, stands alone in his new trial in Washington in connection with the Teapot Dome oil leases. His co-defendant, former Secretary Albert R. Fall, is confined to his home by illness.

TRAFFIC DEATHS AT MINIMUM RESULT OF EASTER COLD WAVE

Seven Fatalities Occur On Holiday Week-End

By International News Service.

Fatal snow flurries and a raw, March-like wind, experienced in most sections of the state, Easter Sunday, kept many of Ohio's motorists indoors and as a result traffic accidents were at a minimum over the week-end. A check-up today shows the following:

Columbus—Mrs. Jennie Pangle, 40, was killed when hit by an auto as she was crossing a street Sunday morning. The driver was not at fault, according to police.

Columbus: Mrs. Bertha Hahn, 51, died from a fractured skull sustained when she was struck by an auto. Cincinnati—William Finerman, 20, of Dayton, was killed and Raphael Moak, 21, was injured when hit by an automobile said to have been driven by William Bader, 23, near Cheviot. Finerman and Moak were changing a tire. Bader was arrested and released under $1,000 bond.

Zanesville—Andrew J. Bell, 65, died Sunday of injuries sustained when he was hit by an automobile Friday. An employee of the state highway department, Bell was placing a sign on the road, warning motorists that men were at work in that section, when he was run down.

Richsville—William Vanderbille, 50, died in a hospital last night after a collision between his and another automobile at Roanoke, near here.

Toledo—James E. Wells, 50, Detroit, died in a hospital yesterday after he had been run down by a "hit-skip" driver on a road near here.

POWDER AND VERBAL EXPLOSIONS SHAKE CITY NEAR TENSION

Suburb Rocked By Blast; Secrecy Veils Bombing

CHICAGO, April 9.—A black-powder bomb was exploded today in the rear of a two-story brick building in Melrose Park, a suburb.

The bombed building was only three blocks from the Melrose Park police station.

Police threw a veil of secrecy about the blast.

They refused to divulge the names of their prisoners or to say whether or not they believe the blast was of political significance.

CHICAGO, April 9.—With tension near the breaking point, rival candidates in Chicago's bitterest of all election campaigns today hurled their final verbal bombs over the heads of a nerve-strained citizenry.

The warring Republican factions are headed by United States Senator Charles S. Deneen, Louis L. Emerson and Judge John A. Swanson on one side, and by Governor Len Small, Mayor William Hale Thompson and State's Attorney Crowe, on the other.

The principal fight rages around the nomination for governor and for state's attorney of Cook County (Chicago). Senator Deneen and Mayor Thompson, field marshals for their respective forces, are not up for any office at this time, but their political fortunes depend on the success of their respective candidates.

Len Small, incumbent, is seeking the nomination to succeed himself as governor. He is opposed by Louis L. Emerson, of the Devenue camp, Robert E. Crowe, who seeks to succeed himself as state's attorney of Cook County, is opposed by Judge Swanson.

The Small-Thompson-Crowe faction has campaigned under the slogan of "America First," which has become a target for the Deneen forces. Deneen campaigners say every rally what "America First" has to do with enforcing the laws of Chicago and the reputation the city holds throughout the world.

ATTEMPT TO CURB JUDGES IS FAILURE

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Organized labor's fight to curb the power of federal judges in the issuance of anti-strike injunctions apparently has been lost in the present session of congress.

Although refusing to concede defeat, backers of the many anti-judgment bills in both senate and house today exhibited little hope of decisive action before adjournment.

With adjournment but a few weeks away and a big legislative calendar piling up, anti-injunction bills were still being held in committee in both senate and house.

The enactment of an anti-injunction bill was announced as labor's major demand upon the present congress, and one of the few bills which President William Green of the American Federation of Labor and other labor leaders declared were vital to the labor movement.

NEW FLOOD PERILS NORTHERN VERMONT

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., April 9.—Another flood peril stalked over northern Vermont and sections of upper New Hampshire today, although the sudden shift to cold weather brought some relief.

The Connecticut River was reported at record height in Gilman and Lunenburg. The Boom Dam at Gilman went out with a roar and the rushing water swept two automobiles along the Lunenburg highway. On the highway as far as Lancaster, N. H., water was four feet deep.

Water reached to the first story of several houses on the lowlands of Barre. Lumber was swept onto the railroad tracks there.

Washouts caused Montreal and Boston express trains to run from ten to fifteen hours late.

DEFENDS MORALS IN BIRTH OF CHILD

LONDON, April 9.—Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, noted English writer and suffragette leader, whose announcement that she has given birth to a baby son aroused widespread interest in Europe and America, said today that a woman can have a "husband" even if there is no religious or civil ceremony to bind the tie.

Miss Pankhurst believes in "free marriage" without any legal "entanglements." Her little son, Richard is the fruit of such a union.

STATE LEGISLATOR TO ADDRESS EAGLES ON OLD AGE PENSION

J. T. ANDERSON

Provisions of the new, revised old age pension law for Ohio, which is being proposed by the Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be explained to Xenia Aerie, No. 1689, at its meeting Friday night, April 13, at the P. O. E. hall by State Representative James T. Anderson, Stark County, who has been selected tentatively to introduce the measure at the next meeting of the state legislature.

Adoption of an old age pension law in every state in the United States is one of the aims of the Grand Aerie of Eagles, and the Ohio Aerie is hopeful of adding this state to the list of those which have adopted such laws at the next session of the assembly. Such a law was proposed at the last session by the Eagles, but it was killed in committee because of constitutional defects. The new measure is designed to eliminate these defects.

Representative Anderson is a member of the Eagles and was selected by the State Old Age Pension Committee of the order for the honor of presenting the new bill. He is now engaged on a speaking tour of Ohio, explaining the measure, during which he will visit every Aerie in the state.

The local meeting was arranged by the old age pension committee of Xenia Aerie, composed of Fred Haller, Otto Hornick and I. Friedman.

LAMPERT FLORAL CO. SUFFERS FIRE LOSS MONDAY MORNING

cabinet containing orders from about 200 nurserymen also was saved.

The boiler room contained about twenty tons of coal which caught fire and proved difficult to extinguish. A fifty-foot smoke stack was damaged but did not collapse. A gasoline motor plow, some tools, lumber, boxes and seed were also consumed.

Three trophies of George Lampert, including a moose head, a fifty-four foot muskellunge fish and a twenty-one foot salmon trout, caught on hunting trips and mounted in the office, were also burned.

Efficient work upon the part of firemen unquestionably prevented a greater loss. The flames had made great headway but were under control in less than an hour and were prevented from spreading.

The heating plant in the boiler room was also seriously damaged as was the large boiler.

The fire occurred at the height of the firm's season. Although the heating system is crippled, the company expects to continue business at once. It is hoped that the boiler may be operated temporarily with low pressure.

The company, which has been in business for twenty years, supplies 195 stores over the country. It had just completed 150,000 packing jobs for four districts in the Western states and had orders from twenty more stores. The firm does wholesale business for different nurserymen in various parts of the country.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE HERE DREW BIG CROWD SUNDAY

for the special Easter services during the day. An inspiring Easter message was delivered by the Rev. W. N. Shank at First M. E. Church, and special numbers were given by the choir. Several members were received. The altar was elaborately decorated with flowers.

Services at the Presbyterian Church were well attended, the morning congregation being one of the largest for many years. Nineteen members were received over the Easter period of services, five being received Easter morning. The church was beautifully decorated by a committee from the Ladies Aid Society. Mrs. W. E. Cox, Mrs. Jacob Baldwin, Mrs. George Baldwin and Miss Josephine Armstrong, assisted by Ed. Lampert.

The choir assembled in the Sunday School room and the Easter Hymn of Praise was sung. The Rev. W. H. Tilford preached on "The Dynamic of Easter." He said that there were three phases of the dynamic of Easter, "the dynamic of assured immortality, the dynamic of an assured victory over sin and the dynamic of an assuredly living Saviour." The speaker stressed these three phases of Easter and especially emphasized the last. The two children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van Cleef were baptized at the morning service.

The Resurrection of Christ as celebrated on Easter morning represents Christ's victory over sin and death, the Rev. David Powers, pastor, told worshippers who filled St. Bridget Catholic Church for the high mass at 6 o'clock Sunday morning. The altars and sanctuary were banked with flowers expressive of the church's celebration of one of the joyful feasts in marked contrast to the sombre mourning colors that are used during the period of the Passion.

A number of small boy acolytes filled the sanctuary in addition to the regular altar boys. Music by the choir was featured by solos by Miss Eleanor McDonnell. Two priests administered communion to the crowds that sought the sacrament. Other masses were at 8:30 and at 10 o'clock, the last being a high mass followed by benediction with the Blessed Sacrament.

The beautiful Easter evening service was marked by a large attendance. The choir performed splendidly and the entire service was inspiring. The messages of song were well received by the large audience.

The reception of new members and the baptism of children featured the morning service at the Lutheran Church. Communion was also administered. The auditorium was fragrant with flowers.

A number of new members were welcomed Sunday morning at the United Brethren Church. The impressive service was well attended and the cantata in the evening was well received.

Other churches held similar programs of worship and song.

LORD BIRKENHEAD'S OPINION OF WOMEN WRITERS NOT HIGH

LONDON, April 8.—Women are inferior to men in the realm of literature, in the opinion of Lord

Birkenhead, Secretary of State for India in the present British government and himself a writer of no mean ability.

Addressing the Author's Club here, he maintained that, although there had always been more women than men in the world, few women in history had ever attained to great literary distinctions.

"There have been many women writers of great distinction, but not in any way comparable to men writers of distinction," he said. "Women have no position in literature. If you consider that the world has existed for ten million years at least, it is reasonable to suppose that the contributions of women to literature would have been equal to that from men. They have not."

"A defense may be found in the defects of education, but to that defense I give no support. In the last three hundred years, women authors have not held their own with male authors."

"I am astonished not by the numbers of women writers who have attained no great distinction—I am astonished by the very small number of those who, in the highest competition of all, have attained to the degree of distinction which is essential to a considerable and permanent place in history."

"It is surprising there should be so few women poets, because wo-

MORE GENERAL USE OF TANKS PROPHECY OF GENERAL FRIES

DAYTON, O., April 9.—Major General Amos A. Fries, head of the chemical warfare division predicts the more general use of tanks in the next war than in the last one. He also predicts the more general use of gas in the future. The only problem confronting armies now is to get gas into enemy trenches. That was the problem in the late unpleasantness which was so costly.

He came here to attend the dedication of the new Masonic Temple and on behalf of the Sojourners Club, a national organization made up of army officers, retired and active who are Master Masons.

He discounts the wholesale destruction of cities by gas to a great extent because of the inability to get it spread out over the cities—a problem which he said was similar to that encountered in actual combat.

He said that one ton of mustard gas was so potential that it could put 22,000,000 men out of action if it could be delivered where its potentiality could be most effective.

He declares the complete surprise of attack in warfare is largely overdrawn. To illustrate the point he told of a trip he made July 18, 1918 the day before the Chateau Thierry drive was started. Although at the head of a division he did not know when the "big push" would start. And neither did the Germans, although every one sensed the fact that something was going to happen in a few hours.

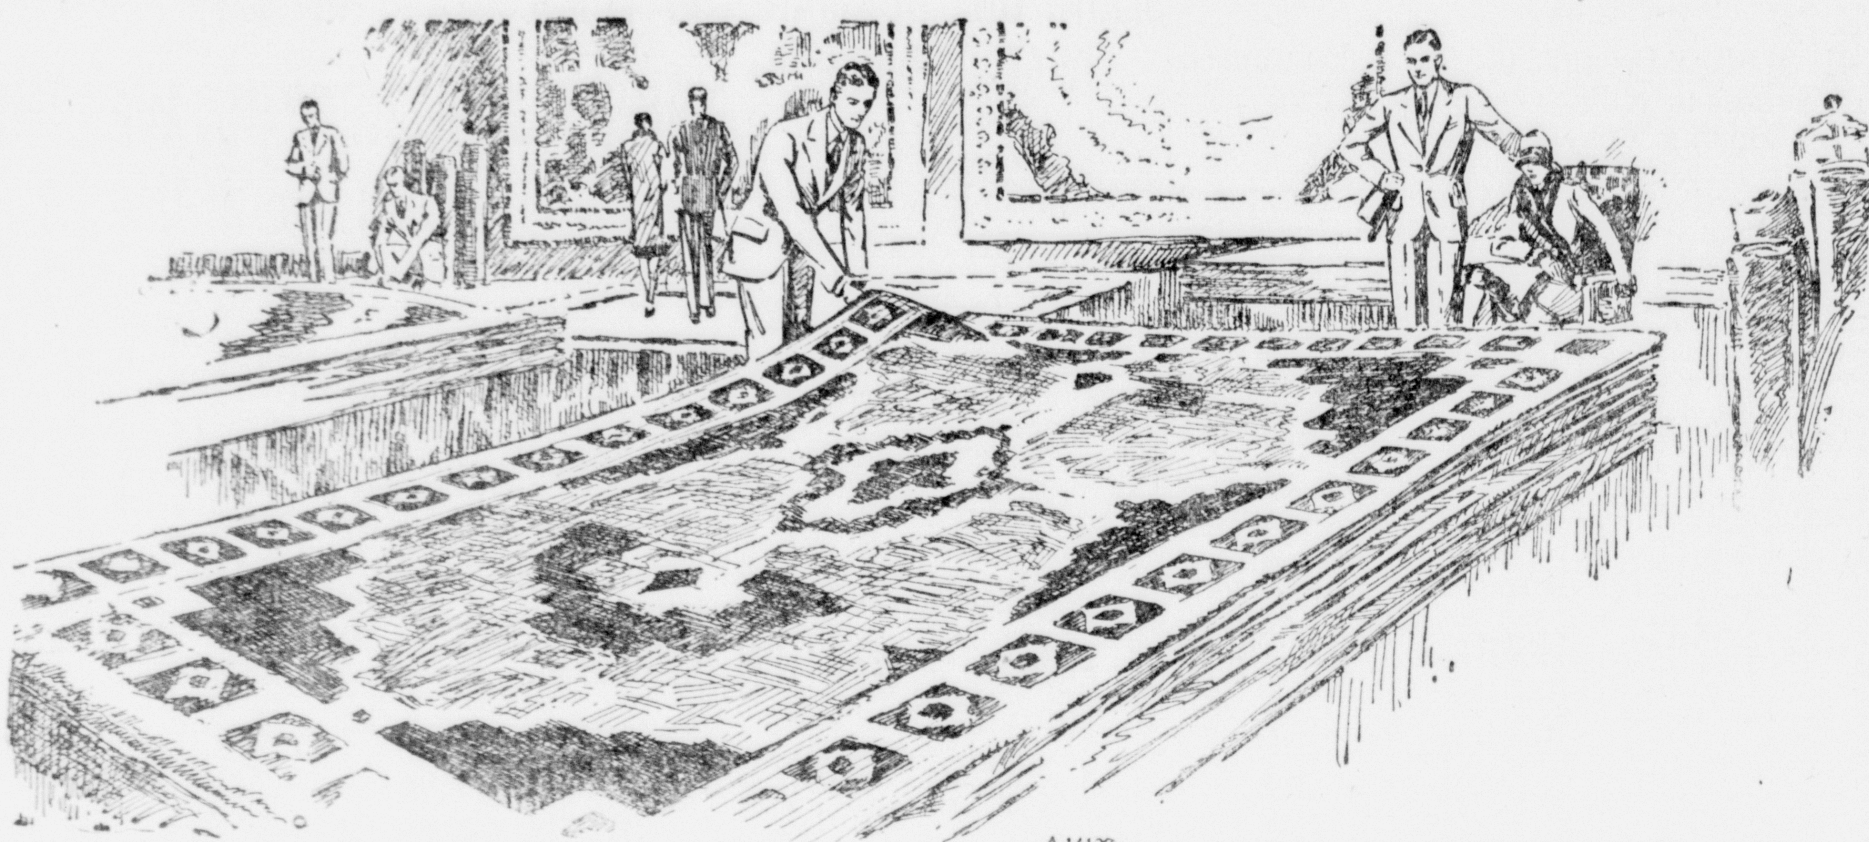

As war becomes more mechanical he said the man who used his head and protective measures has a better chance. He then disclosed that a gas mask is being perfected for the government which is worn in comparative comfort and that the wearers can carry on a conversation.

STATE LEGISLATOR TO ADDRESS EAGLES
ON OLD AGE PENSION

J. T. ANDERSON

Provisions of the new, revised old age pension law for Ohio, which is being proposed by the Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be explained to Xenia Aerie No. 1689, at its meeting Friday night, April 13, at the P. O. E. hall by State Representative James T. Anderson, Stark County, who has been selected tentatively to introduce the measure at the next meeting of the state legislature.

Adoption of an old age pension law in every state in the United States is one of the aims of the Grand Aerie of Eagles, and the Ohio Aerie is hopeful of adding this state to the list of those which have adopted such laws at the next session of the assembly. Such a law was proposed at the last session by the Eagles, but it was killed in committee because of constitutional defects. The new measure is designed to eliminate these defects.

Representative Anderson is a member of the Eagles and was selected by the State Old Age Pension Committee of the order for the honor of presenting the new bill. He is now engaged on a speaking tour of Ohio, explaining the measure, during which he will visit every Aerie in the state.

The local meeting was arranged by the old age pension committee of Xenia Aerie, composed of Fred Haller, Otto Hornick and J. Friedman.

LAMPERT FLORAL CO.
SUFFERS FIRE LOSS
MONDAY MORNING

Cabinet containing orders from about 200 nurserymen also was saved.

The boiler room contained about twenty tons of coal which caught fire and proved difficult to extinguish. A fifty-foot smoke stack was damaged but did not collapse. A gasoline motor plow, some tools, lumber, boxes and seed were also consumed.

Three trophies of George Lampert, including a moose head, a fifty-four foot muskellunge fish and a twenty-one foot salmon trout, caught on hunting trips and mounted in the office, were also burned.

Efficient work upon the part of firemen unquestionably prevented a greater loss. The flames had made great headway but were under control in less than an hour and were prevented from spreading.

The heating plant in the boiler room was also seriously damaged as was the large boiler.

The fire occurred at the height of the firm's season. Although the heating system is crippled, the company expects to continue business as usual. It is hoped that the boiler may be repaired temporarily with low pressure.

The company, which has been in business for twenty years, supplies 185 stores over the country. It had just completed 150,000 packing jobs for four districts in the Western states and had orders from twenty more stores. The firm does wholesale business for different nurserymen in various parts of the country.

EASTER SUNRISE
SERVICE HERE DREW
BIG CROWD SUNDAY

For the special Easter services during the day, an inspiring Easter message was delivered by the Rev. W. N. Shank at First M. E. Church, and special numbers were given by the choir. Several members were received. The altar was elaborately decorated with flowers.

Servants at the Presbyterian Church were well attended, the morning congregation being one of the largest for many years. Nineteen members were received over the Easter period of services, five being received Easter morning. The church was beautifully decorated by a committee from the Ladies Aid Society: Mrs. W. E. Cox, Mrs. Jacob Baldwin, Mrs. George Baldwin and Miss Josephine Armstrong, assisted by Ed. Lampert.

The choir assembled in the Sunday School room and the Easter Hymn of Praise was sung. The Rev. W. H. Tilford preached on "The Dynamic of Easter." He said that there were three phases of the dynamic of Easter: "the dynamic of assured immortality, the dynamic of an assured victory over sin and the dynamic of an assured living Saviour." The speaker stressed these three phases of Easter and especially emphasized the last. The two children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van Cleef were baptized at the morning service.

The Resurrection of Christ as celebrated on Easter morning represents Christ's victory over sin and death, the Rev. David Powers, pastor, told worshippers who filled St. Bridget Catholic Church for the high mass at 6 o'clock Sunday morning. The altars and sanctuary were banked with flowers expressive of the church's celebration of one of the joyful feasts in marked contrast to the sombre mourning colors that are used during the period of the Passion.

A number of small boys scolded the regular altar boys, Music by the choir was featured by solos by Miss Eleanor McDonnell. Two priests administered communion to the crowds that sought the sacrament. Other masses were at 8:30 and at 10 o'clock, the last being a high mass followed by benediction with the Blessed Sacrament.

The beautiful Easter evening service was marked by a large attendance. The choir performed splendidly and the entire service was inspiring. The messages of song were well received by the large audience.

The reception of new members and the baptism of children featured the morning service at the Lutheran Church. Communion was also administered. The auditorium was fragrant with flowers.

A number of new members were welcomed Sunday morning at the United Brethren Church. The impressive service was well attended and the cantata in the evening was well received.

Other churches held similar programs of worship and song.

Addressing the Author's Club here, he maintained that, although there had always been more women than men in the world, few women in history had ever attained to great literary distinctions.

C., to present counsel arguments for and against the appeal, which reached the U. S. NEW LABORATORY IS BEING ERECTED AT STATE UNIVERSITY

COLUMBUS, O., April 9.—A new $75,000 laboratory building to be used by the biology department of Ohio State University is now under construction on historical Gibraltar Island on Lake Erie which was used by Commodore Perry in the War of 1812 to sight the British fleet.

When completed the laboratory with new equipment and its facilities will be one of the finest inland laboratories of its kind in the United States. Opening of the building, a three story structure, will feature the annual summer courses offered in biology by the university, June 18 to Aug. 21.

Gibraltar Island was given to the Ohio State University three years ago by Julius Stone, Columbus manufacturer and a member of the board of trustees. In recognition of Stone's generosity, the laboratory was named Franz Theodore Stone in honor of the donor's father. Following its use by Commodore Perry before his victory over the British fleet, the island was the summer home of Jay Cooke, the Civil War financier, for several years. Stone acquired the island in recent years.

The new laboratory is intended primarily for graduate and other advanced students. It is designed to provide the best possible opportunity to investigators, teachers and advanced students for research work and instruction in biology, botany and entomology.

BURSTING BOMBS PRELUDE TO CHICAGO ELECTION

With a prelude of bursting bombs, Chicago has approached its primary election, April 10, in a manner so violent as to attract the attention of the entire nation.

Following charges of adherents of Mayor William Hale Thompson that dry enforcement officers aided a faction of the Republicans headed by United States Senator Charles S. Deneen, the federal government notified its agents to keep a "hands off" policy.

The fighting has been over a control of Cook County. Running on the Deneen ticket is state's attorney, Judge John A. Swanson, narrowly escaped death when his house was bombed, but it was the bombing of Senator Deneen's house that brought the warfare to a climax. Senator Deneen was returning to Washington after attending the funeral of "Diamond Joe" Esposito, ward leader, assassinated. Bina Deneen the senator's daughter, luckily happened to be in Washington when the Deneen home was virtually wrecked.

Probe of the bombing was begun by George E. Q. Johnson, United States district attorney, and the Illinois attorney general, Oscar E. Carlstrom.

Louis L. Emmerson is of the Deneen faction, running for the gubernatorial nomination against Governor Len Small.

The anti-Deneen lineup—Mayor Thompson, Governor Small and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe (opposed in the race by Judge Swanson)—in denying its faction a responsibility for the bombings, declared they were instigated by the Deneen faction to obtain sympathy for its ticket and cast reflection on the other side, which was indignantly denied by the other side.

Trustees of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home took no action regarding selection of a superintendent and chief matron to succeed Col. and Mrs. T. E. Andrews, resigned, at their regular meeting at the Home Saturday and Sunday.

Action, however, may result from a meeting to be held in Columbus within a week or ten days at the call of Marcus Limb, Wooster, chairman of the board. The trustees have the names of several candidates for the position, but have not released a list of applicants. In the meantime Miss E. Jane Bailey, Wapakoneta, Democratic member of the board, continued in temporary charge of the institution.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary child welfare committee arranged an Easter party for children at the Home Sunday, sixty of them coming here for the day. They brought Easter baskets for the younger children and books were gifts to older boys and girls. The visitors enjoyed their luncheon together in the dining room following the children's luncheon.

GAS WELL FOUND
ATHENS, O., April 9.—The new gas field at Amesville, northern Athens County, was brought into further prominence today after a well came in with a roar last night.

Marie Howard, 19, of Kansas City, Mo., is awaiting trial in the county jail at Kansas City, charged with the fatal shooting of Irvin "Speedy" Stephens, plainclothesman and crack shot of the Kansas City police department. Miss Howard admits shooting Stephens as he slept in a "police-protected" apartment after a party. She declares that she "couldn't stand him any longer," and that he put her on the streets for immoral purposes to get her money. Both are shown above.

A resident of Laurel for the last sixteen years, Mr. McLaughlin was associated with the Wausau-Southern Lumber Co. as export sales manager. He formerly lived in Anoka, Minn., where he was engaged in the lumber business.

He is survived by his widow and two children, Hugh, Louisville, Ky., and Miss Lilla McLaughlin, of Laurel, who formerly was employed as a stenographer at the Hoover and Allison Co., Xenia, for two and one-half years, living with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whitmer while in this city.

Mr. McLaughlin often visited his daughter in Xenia and enjoyed a wide acquaintance here. Funeral services were held April 2 at the family home with interment in Lake View Cemetery, Laurel.

FRUIT NOT DAMAGED GROWERS DECLARE

The prospect of damage to fruits was a more serious side of the lowering temperatures Sunday, although Greene County fruit growers are of the opinion the cold weather did not hurt early cherries and other fruits.

The official temperature recorded Sunday was 28 degrees above zero but the outlook for Tuesday is partly cloudy, with rising temperatures.

William Trick, a postal clerk, told police he saw the couple leave the baby in a vestibule of a post office here. Trick caught them and called police.

"The baby cried too much," the parents explained to police. "She was too much of a luxury for us."

The baby, Mary Ellen Rose, was taken to a hospital.

NEW LABORATORY IS BEING ERECTED AT STATE UNIVERSITY

COLUMBUS, O., April 8.—A new $75,000 laboratory building to be used by the biology department of Ohio State University is now under construction on historical Gibraltar Island on Lake Erie which was used by Commodore Perry in the War of 1812 to sight the British fleet.

When completed the laboratory with new equipment and its facilities will be one of the finest inland laboratories of its kind in the United States. Opening of the building, a three story structure, will feature the annual summer courses offered in biology by the university, June 15 to Aug. 31.

Gibraltar Island was given to the Ohio State University three years ago by Julius Stone, Columbus manufacturer and a member of the board of trustees. In recognition of Stone's generosity, the laboratory was named Frazz Theodore Stone in honor of the donor's father. Following its use by Commodore Perry before his victory over the British fleet, the island was the summer home of Jay Cooke, the Civil War financier, for several years.

The new laboratory is intended primarily for graduate and other advanced students. It is designed to provide the best possible opportunity to investigators, teachers and advanced students for research work and instruction in biology, botany and entomology.

BURSTING BOMBS PRELUDE TO CHICAGO ELECTION

With a prelude of bursting bombs, Chicago has approached its primary election, April 10, in a manner so violent as to attract the attention of the entire nation.

Following charges of adherents of Mayor William Hale Thompson that dry enforcement officers aided a faction of the Republicans headed by United States Senator Charles S. Denen, the federal government notified its agents to keep a "hands off" policy. The fighting has been over a contest for control of Cook County. Running on the Denen ticket for state's attorney, Judge John A. Swanson narrowly escaped death when his house was bombed, but it was the bombing of Senator Denen's house that brought the warfare to a climax. Senator Denen was returning to Washington after attending the funeral of "Diamond Joe" Esposito, ward leader, assassinated. Bina Denen, the senator's daughter, luckily happened to be in Washington when the Denen home was virtually wrecked.

Probe of the bombing was begun by George E. Q. Johnson, United States district attorney, and the Illinois attorney general, Oscar E. Carlstrom.

Louis L. Emmerson is of the Denen faction, running for the gubernatorial nomination against Governor Len Small.

The anti-Denen lineup—Mayor Thompson, Governor Small and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe (opposed in the race by Judge Swanson)—in denying its faction's responsibility for the bombings, declared they were instigated by the Denen faction to obtain sympathy for its ticket and cast reflection on the other side, which was indignantly denied by the other side.

Trustees of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home took no action regarding selection of a superintendent and chief matron to succeed Col. and Mrs. T. E. Andrews, resigned, at their regular meeting at the Home Saturday and Sunday.

Action, however, may result from a meeting to be held in Columbus within a week or ten days at the call of Marcus Limb, Wooster, chairman of the board. The trustees have the names of several candidates for the position, but have not released a list of applicants. In the meantime Miss E. Jane Bailey, Wapakoneta, Democratic member of the board, continued in temporary charge of the institution.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary child welfare committee arranged an Easter party for children at the Home Sunday, sixty of them coming here for the day. They brought Easter baskets for the younger children and books were gifts to older boys and girls. The visitors enjoyed their luncheon together in the dining room following the children's luncheon.

She declares that she "couldn't stand him any longer," and that he put her on the streets for immoral purposes to get her money. Both are shown above.

are MERCHANTS human beings?

What does the big-city merchant look like?

Is he an ugly ogre, with vulture-like claws, seeking whom he may devour. Or is he a patient, kindly man, mellowed by years of service to his fellowman?

You don't know because the big-city merchant is shielded from the public behind his organization. He seldom comes in contact with his public because he has others employed to make his contacts. For that reason his business is frequently handled with the impersonal attitude that is exhibited by the hirelings who have no personal interest in the business of which they are a part.

The Xenia merchant, however, is not that far removed from the people who are his customers. He is known to practically all and he gives every detail of his business his personal attention. But that is his business side.

See him in a more human element, the club room of the Xenia Retail Merchants Association. There he is now engaged in a venture that prophesies a greater commercial activity for Xenia and therefore a greater Xenia.

The good spirit of co-operation, the friendly relations of meeting on common ground, wipe out the tension of business competition. Here they are not speaking in behalf of their own businesses, but in behalf of Xenia, which is your town as well as theirs.

There is no explanation for the theory that this business of working for and making a better and more progressive city, should fall exclusively on the shoulders of its merchants.

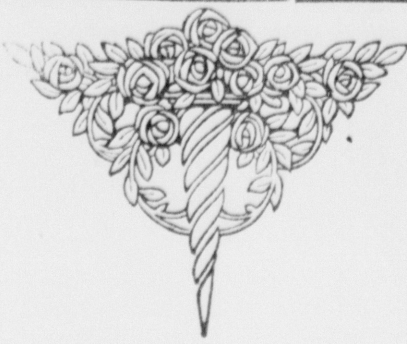

There is a precedent for it, however, for in most cities it is the merchants who are sounding the note of progress, and quickening the pulse of civic activity that makes for improvements and better and more prosperous conditions.

Knowing this fact, Xenia merchants who are members of the Xenia Retail Merchants are not dodging the issue or shirking their duty as they see it. What they accomplish by this united effort will benefit all but what they are doing is being done in a spirit of self-sacrifice.

Of course, not being endowed with superhuman powers, they cannot make this vision of a greater Xenia come true without the help of all Xenians. Having conceived the strategy of progress they must ask the united support of citizens to carry the objective. Having shown the way, others must follow. This support bears no relation to self-sacrifice but rather to self-satisfaction. It conceives only the need of supporting these merchants in their separate business that they may carry on to a greater Xenia. Thus your help becomes not a burden but a pleasure.

Enjoined From Love

Edward Fosse

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The Gazette

MARION, Ill., April 9.—Can a court force a man to stop making love?

No, sir—or no, ma'am—says Edward Fosse, whom a court has enjoined from making love.

Yes, sir, says the lady being loved. Yes, yes, indeed.

But it remains to be seen—and, even though Fosse may not dare to look upon his loved one (by court order)—he asserts he'll win her yet. Williamson County is divided over the matter, with wise men shaking their heads, saying no good will come to trying to stop love.

Has Loved Her 15 Years

On the other side there are women who declare Fosse wasted too much time in his love-making, dilly-dallied, as it were, for it has been right on fifteen years that he has been loving Miss Ruth Aikman, 35, Marion bank cashier and former school teacher.

Of a pioneer family, Miss Aikman is known not only for her brilliance, but her beauty.

She has obtained an injunction against Fosse, 45, tender of bees and maker of honey, "from following, or loitering about, from addressing and speaking to, from gazing and staring at, and from writing, either by United States mail or messenger, from calling by telephone, or in any way whatever communicating, or attempting to communicate, with the said Miss Ruth Aikman."

In her list of allegations, Miss Aikman avers Fosse never had passed an evening with her on a friendly call, yet had written more than 1,000 letters telling of his love.

But the limit was reached when Fosse phoned her house fifteen times in an afternoon when she had company. Miss Aikman declares. And, nearly as bad, he changed his church membership so he could gaze upon her, Miss Aikman insists—and once she struck him in the face in the church vestibule because she wasn't sure from his love even in church, she points out.

Has Observed Writ

Fosse has been trying to obey the writ. He has had to draw his money out of the bank when Miss Aikman wasn't there, depositing it elsewhere; he motors on out-of-the-way streets, and has given up church going altogether.

In true poetic form, Fosse describes his feelings by quoting from Sir Andrew Barton as he lay injured during a battle in Scotland back in the thirteenth century: "I am not dead; I am hurt, but I am not slain. I'll lay me down and bleed awhile, But then I'll rise and fight again."

THEY'LL LEAD TEAMS IN 1928 AMERICAN RACE

With interest centering around Miller Huggins and his champion New York Yankees, baseball fans expect these other American league managers to also contribute plenty to next summer's excitement. They are: Connie Mack, Philadelphia; Dan Howley, St. Louis; Bucky Harris, Washington; Bill Carrigan, Boston; Ray Schalk, Chicago; George Moriarty, Detroit; and Roger Peckinpaugh, Cleveland.

ONE FOR THE BOOK

Dave Bancroft is considered one of the real veterans of the game. He is starting his fourteenth year as a major league player and also faces the task of living down the fact that he was manager of the Boston Braves four years. But he doesn't consider his career nearing the end.

"I'm only half through," says Dave. "This is my first season with the Dodgers, and completes the eastern half of the circuit, but I haven't played with any of the western clubs of the league so far."

And the record books bear Banny out. He broke into the majors with the Phillies in 1915, the year the genial Pat Moran lifted them to a pennant. He played in Quakertown five seasons and then was traded to the Giants for Art Fletcher and Hubbell, a pitcher. He figured in three championship successes with the Giants in 1921-22-23 and found himself sent to Boston in a trade.

Bill Cunningham and Casey Stengel were wrapped up with him and shunted to the Braves for Joe Oeschger and Billy Southworth. There was method in the Braves' madness, however, as they wanted him for manager and made him such immediately.

Then he moved to the Dodgers last winter, to make room for Jack Slater, the new pilot.

Bancroft has always held to his old love—shortstop. He has never played enough games at any other position at least to warrant the inclusion of these games in the record books.

And, oddly enough this wily vet, who has been making the rounds of the east, is a westerner by birth, Sioux City, Ia., being his birthplace. He makes his winter home in Superior, Wis.

Dwight F. Davis, after whom the Davis cup is named, played in three matches of the first Davis cup challenge rounds in 1900.

If John L. Sullivan, first world heavyweight champion to live in America, had lived he would be 70 years old this year. He died at Abington, Mass., in 1918.

Six captains of baseball and other intercollegiate sports are members of the Rutgers nine this season.

The Braves swamped the Yankees and Brooklyn beat Boston four straight so that makes the Dodgers champions of New York City—maybe.

A society of small rifle enthusiasts has 1,730 clubs in England. About 100,000 Britons are followers of the sport.

WILL RUN AGAIN

OBERLIN COLLEGE LIFTS ANCIENT LAW AGAINST WALKING

OBERLIN, O., April 9.—The "Ancient Blue Law" of Oberlin College here which prohibited men and women students walking together on the Sabbath Day has been lifted by the faculty this year. The faculty's decision ends a restrictive rule as old as Oberlin College itself, it is said.

In the "olden days" men and coeds were never allowed to walk together under "any circumstances," except, according to the "law book," "by some accident a young man and woman happened to be going in the same direction, it is raining, and the young gentleman has with him an umbrella with which to shelter the young lady." Yet the couple was kept separated due to the narrowness, then of the Oberlin sidewalks, which were built of two narrow strips of lumber, separated safely by two or more feet of muddy, sticky earth.

The "walking rule" was later amended somewhat and coeds were allowed to walk to church with their "boy friends" or to or from classes in the day-time. Long years after this young men and women students were allowed to "swing hands together down the lane" after dark.

This restriction, it is said, was neglected as modern ideas and modern sidewalks appeared on the Oberlin campus until one rule remained on the college statute book relative to "walking"—that of forbidding college youths and young fair coeds from walking together between 2 and 4:30 p. m. on Sunday.

Students declared no one knew why the rule was on the books or why it was enforced. Finally, the students of Oberlin College were pleasantly surprised March 7 when the faculty announced that the last of the Sunday restrictions had been removed.

ENGLAND DOES NOT APPROVE AMERICAN MASS PRODUCTION

LONDON, April 9.—England does not approve of mass production methods.

Leading English business men declare that England is still the workshop of the world, and the adoption of the mass production principle would prove fatal to English trade.

One manufacturer declared: "America may boast of their mass production methods, but when their merchants want goods of distinctive quality and novelty of design, it is to England they send."

There are at the present time, he added, buyers representing more than a hundred of the great stores of the United States visiting this country, and will take back with them, cloth, linen, millinery, power, furniture, cutlery, leather goods, carpets, china, clothing, and kitchen utensils.

A. E. Robbins, London manager for the Associated Merchandising Corporation declared, "America appreciates the value of British goods, and more and more buyers are coming to this country every year."

"This corporation alone," he added, "is supported by eighteen of the leading American stores, and one of its duties is to select examples of British merchandise likely to be popular in America and put them before buyers here."

A. E. Robbins issues a warning to the British woolen manufacturers. He says:

"It is well to remember that the American women demand that woollen garments fit as smartly as an ordinary tailor-made. English women are content if their jumpers or knitted suits are comfortable and look very neat, but the American wants the cut and fit absolutely accurate."

PERSONNEL GROUP ENDS CONFERENCE STAGED AT ANTIOCH

Thirty prominent educators attended the second annual personnel conference at Antioch College which extended through Friday and Saturday.

The conference is not a formal organization but is composed of educators and leaders in personnel work, who convene to compare notes and discuss personnel problems. Members are from the midwest and east.

Dr. Charles R. Mann, of Washington, president of the American Council of Education, and principal speaker of the conference, discussed "Progress in Personnel Work" at the Saturday morning session.

Speaking of the purpose of personnel work, Dr. Mann declared "The personnel worker should seek to develop the individual as a member of the social organization to learn to do a job well so that his work makes a contribution to society."

Concerning the points Dr. D. T. Howard, of Northwestern University, has enumerated in a discussion as to the purpose of a personnel worker, Dr. Mann said that he wished to add the development of moral responsibility—a sense of values that have true moral significance—and a tie-up between these and daily life.

"We should focus our attention on adapting people properly to working conditions for that is the fundamental thing that will cause our various social ills to vanish," Dr. Mann said in closing.

About thirty-five trees were placed along the "White Ribbon Trail" in Shawnee Park by members of A. C. Turrell W. C. T. U. last week. Fifteen memory trees, donated by individuals were placed in the park, also.

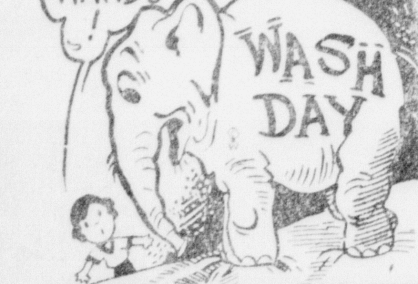

Anyone knowing any former Xenians who might be interested in placing a tree in memory of some relative, is asked to leave their names at City Hall with T. H. Zell. A letter will be written by the Home-Coming Committee to ask them for the tree.

Bids for the construction of rest-rooms in the park are about ready to be opened. About $200 must be raised before the work can be started.

The park building committee is sponsoring a benefit at the Bijou Theater, Wednesday afternoon and night, proceeds from which will be given to the building fund.

LOEB, LEOPOLD IN OBLIVION

By BONITA WITT
Staff Writer for Central Press and The Gazette

JOLIET, Ill., April 9.—What are Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, youthful murderers of Bobby Planks, of Chicago, doing these days behind the bars?

Well, they're forgotten. Even though America spent tons of money on them, they are overlooked by fellow prisoners and are merely young convicts among other young (and old) convicts, living a humdrum life day in and day out.

They are condemned to pass the remainder of their life thus.

Completely Shut Off

Completely shut off from the outside world, they know little of what goes on beyond the prison walls, and the outside world knows less of them.

In the days before Loeb and Leopold came to Joliet, groups of persons were taken through the penitentiary on visiting days, shown the various departments and allowed to watch the men at work.

With the admission of Loeb and Leopold to the prison the number of visitors increased to such proportions that guards were unable to handle them. In less than a month 10,000 persons went through the penitentiary solely to get a look at these youthful slayers.

Today, no visitors are allowed there and even occasional celebrities, who are shown through the buildings, do not see the boys who escaped the electric chair by an insanity plea.

"Just Ordinary Boys"

"Why should everyone be so interested in Loeb and Leopold?" questions Warden Green. "After all they're just ordinary boys. Every time there is a disturbance the newspapers immediately shout, 'Loeb and Leopold.' There are a lot smarter boys here who are far more capable plotters than those two. Every time the papers get hard up for news they write something about them."

LOEB, LEOPOLD IN OBLIVION

By BONITA WITT
Staff Writer for Central Press and The Gazette

JOLIET, Ill., April 9.—What are Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, youthful murderers of Bobby Franks, of Chicago, doing these days behind the bars?

Well, they're forgotten. Even though America spent tons of newspaper on them, they are overlooked by fellow prisoners and are merely young convicts among other young (and old) convicts, living a humdrum life day in and day out.

They are condemned to pass the remainder of their life there.

Every time there is a disturbance the newspapers immediately shout, 'Loeb and Leopold.' There are a lot smarter boys here who are far more capable plotters than those two. Every time the papers get hard up for news they write something about them."

"Take that last prison break we had. Immediately the reporters who came down here on the story connected Loeb and Leopold with the plot, I'm convinced they didn't even know about the proposed escape and I know they didn't have a hand in it."

"We've never had any trouble with them. They behave themselves and do their work."

Their Work Not Disclosed

What their work is the warden doesn't disclose, but it is known that Loeb usually works in the chair factory and Nathan Leopold, who has been transferred to the new prison, on the outskirts of Joliet, is often called on to do office work.

Once constant companions, Loeb and Leopold never see each other now except on rare occasions when they consult their lawyers for they are in separate prisons.

Men released from Joliet say they keep to themselves and cell-mates have little opportunity of knowing them.

To the outside world they may be surrounded with a certain morbid glamour, but to the warden they're just ordinary boys, outstripped by many other less well-known inmates in cleverness.

Merely ordinary boys—enveloped in the oblivion of a great penitentiary.
